

Windows Update

The Windows operating system requires frequent updates to keep it secure and fully operational. Updates are provided on a regular basis for Windows 10 and should be applied when available. To see what the update situation is for your computer:

- 1 Go to Start, Settings, then click Update & security

Alternatively, you can type “settings” into the Taskbar Search box, or say “Hey Cortana, open settings”, to open the Settings window.

- 2 Next, in the left-hand panel, click Windows Update

Unlike previous versions of Windows, whose updates only provided periodical security patches and bug fixes, the Update model in Windows 10 provides continuous security and feature improvements.
